DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pentz et al. (US 6,471,127) (hereinafter referred to as 'Pentz').

Pentz teaches a non-standardized transaction card comprising a storage means for storing information wherein the nonstandard-sized transaction card comprises a length measurement and a width measurement, wherein both the length and width measurements are each less than about 1 inch (col. 5, lines 17-53);

wherein the storage means is a magnetic stripe; wherein the magnetic stripe is parallel to an edge of the nonstandardized card; and the card further comprising an aperture disposed through the transaction card.

Pentz teaches a nonstandardized-sized transaction card comprising a storage means for storing information wherein the nonstandard-sized transaction card comprises a length measurement and a width measurement wherein the length measurement is greater than about 3 inches (col. 5, lines 24-53);

wherein the storage means is a magnetic stripe;

wherein the magnetic stripe is parallel to an edge of the nonstandard-sized transaction card; and

the card further comprising an aperture disposed through the transaction card.

Pentz teaches a nonstandardized-sized transaction card having at least one set of opposing sides that are not parallel to each other, wherein the nonstandard-sized transaction card comprises a length measurement comprising a range selected from the group consisting of between about 1 inch and about 1 7/8 inches and greater than about 3 inches, and further wherein the nonstandard-sized transaction card comprises a width measurement comprising a range selected from the group consisting of less than about 1 inch and greater than about 1 7/8 inches (col. 10, lines 33-42 and Figures 13A and 13B);

the card further comprising a storage means for storing information relating to a transaction account; wherein the storage means comprises a magnetic stripe; wherein the magnetic stripe is disposed parallel to an edge of said transaction card;

wherein the magnetic stripe is parallel to one of the sides of the set of opposing sides that are not parallel to each other; and the card further comprising an aperture disposed through the transaction card.

Pentz teaches a transaction card comprising a magnetic stripe, wherein the magnetic stripe has a measurement comprising a range selected from the group consisting of less than about 1 inch and greater than about 3 3/8 inches (col. 5, lines 15-53);

wherein the transaction card is a nonstandard-sized transaction card; wherein the magnetic stripe is parallel to an edge of the transaction card;

the card further comprising an aperture disposed through the transaction card.

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
